Exploring Race in Self and Other

The dynamics of race are at play in every organization.

As leaders, coaches and people who want to make a difference in the world, it is vital that we are able to enter into and hold conversations about race with our clients in systems. The Exploring Race in Self and Other workshop is designed to prepare people to explore and address issues of race in the workplace. The workshop will help you explore your personal experience with race and learn from the experiences of others. As a result of attending this workshop, you will be able to better serve your clients, colleagues, friends and others by engaging in resonant race conversations with awareness, intention and skill.

IN THE WORKSHOP, YOU WILL EXPERIENCE:

- 1 A safe environment of resonance, compassion and empathy for discussions of difference and work about race.
- 2 Discussion of the cultural context of power and privilege and why it is more important than ever to be aware of organizational and interpersonal dynamics that show up in different aspects of life.
- 3 Coaching conversations related to race, power and privilege with feedback.
- 4 Engaging, challenging, insight-filled discussions and presentations on the dynamics within, and across, race.

Please bring a commitment to self improvement, love and empathy, and a healthy dose of curiosity to help us create a supportive environment of personal growth.

To support community building and commitment to action, we will provide optional activity: group dinner for all participants (no additional cost)
